Want to hear how athletes and team staff are being helped to achieve better success with scientifically supported BrainLit lighting? We have prepared spaces where you can personally experience the BioCentric light. Several clubs already rely on the BrainLit solution, such as Ilves and Tappara from Tampere, without saying anything about major global employers such as Ernst & Young and SonyEricsson.

Come and check out our NextGen 360° LED dasher board yourself and discuss how our boards can increase your advertisement revenue and spectator experience.
